

Barrington Natural Heritage and Agricultural Fair

August 28–28, 2009 At the Warren Farm

Fair Hours ~ 10:00–4:00

Musicians Invited to Play ~ Sun. 8/29, 11:00–1:30

Peter Yarensky and Teresa Wyman are hosting an informal musical portion of the Fair under a tent at the Warren Farm, right in front of the farmhouse, from 11:00–1:30. This is one of the nicest places in town, and it will be an interesting event with good food, interesting people, and interesting activities throughout the day.

We will provide general listening music, and we may play for some country dancing as well. We invite you to join us in playing music. We expect to have some time to play together as a group, and if anyone is interested there should be time for people to play by themselves or in smaller groups so they can play their favorite tunes.

The Event Features:

- ▶ Farmer's Market with lots of great, fresh, local food!
- ▶ Crafts and Specialty items made by local artisans
- ▶ Educational Displays and Information about Agriculture, Land Conservation, Sustainability and Living Local and optional round table discussions
- ▶ Animals accompanied by their owners who can answer questions about the purpose each animal serves on the farm as well as in our healthy local diets.
- ▶ Fun Field Games for the Kids, Musicians, Country Dancing, yummy local food cooked up fresh, Revolutionary War re-enactors in authentic garb, Old Fashioned Storytelling

For More Information, Directions, etc:
